

DR. LORENZ'S CLINICS HALTED BY ILLNESS

Vienna Surgeon Resting at Colonia, N. J., for Indefinite Period.

HIS COLLAPSE NEAR

Too Exhausted to Finish

4-Year-Old.

CLIMATE IS DEPRESSING

Nervous Indigestion Continues to Trouble, Following Change of Food.

Dr. Adolph Lorenz, who is on the verge of collapse because of his efforts to relieve the crippled children of this city, went last night to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Albee at Colonia, N. J., to rest for an indefinite period.

It was announced that, due to the condition of the surgeon, the clinics which were to have been held this week at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, Madison avenue and 123d street probably will be postponed until he recovers. Dr. Lorenz, however, may insist to-morrow morning that he is able to continue the clinics.

At no time since he began examining patients ten days ago has Dr. Lorenz appeared so completely worn out as last night. He performed one operation yesterday afternoon in Kings County Hospital, and at the end of it he was hardly able to walk. Indeed, he performed only a part of the operation, which was for club foot. He operated on one of the feet and turned the other one over to Dr. Franklin P. Van Wart, the chief orthopedist at the hospital.

Nervous indigestion continues to trouble Dr. Lorenz. The food he has been getting here is so much richer than that to which he has been accustomed in Vienna for the last five years that his stomach has been unable to adjust itself. The climate also has had a depressing effect upon him.

Dr. Albee, who first met Dr. Lorenz in Vienna in 1917, heard that he was in danger of breakdown and decided that a rest at Colonia would refresh him. Dr. and Mrs. Albee will give a dinner in honor of Dr. Lorenz at noon to-day. Twenty-five prominent physicians and officials of Newark, Hoboken and Jersey City will be present. Later in the afternoon a reception will be held.

Dr. Lorenz refused to comment on the action of several of the leading hospitals in Chicago in announcing that he would not be welcome to hold clinics there. His secretary, Dr. Walter J. Galland, said:

"His plans are upset now and he is unable to say whether the proposed visit to Chicago will be cancelled or not. Much depends on the state of his health."

It was the original intention of Dr. Lorenz to go to Chicago just before Christmas. The statement of the Chicago orthopedists said that Dr. Lorenz came to this country either to pay a debt of gratitude on the part of Austria or to recoup his fortune, which was lost during the war. In either case, they said, his visit would work an injustice to American orthopedists and to crippled children. The statement said, would have their hopes raised by the "miracle man" reports and would necessarily be doomed to disappointment.

Dr. Lorenz, however, has said that he did not claim to be superior to American orthopedic surgeons, but that he wanted to give his skill to relieve whatever suffering he could.

Stephen Weinberg, who posed as "Dr. Clifford Weyman," and got a job for a while as Dr. Lorenz's secretary, had disappeared yesterday from the Murray Hill Hotel, where he lived while masquerading as a surgeon. No formal complaint has been lodged against Weinberg by the police, but several persons decried by his fake appointments in behalf of Dr. Lorenz are anxious to find him. Weinberg is said to be an eccentric youth with a weakness for posing as a representative of prominent persons.

The operation which Dr. Lorenz performed yesterday was upon James Maby, 1, of Richmond Hill. The boy's father is Frederick W. Maby, an electrician.

SURETY CONCERN BACKS TALLEY ON BAIL ABUSE

Bonds Withheld From Habitual Criminals.

Judge Alfred J. Talley's denunciation of surety companies for issuing bail bonds for habitual criminals caused R. R. Brown, first vice-president of the American Surety Company, to say yesterday that Judge Talley's criticism is in complete accord with the policy of his own company.

"When Judge Talley points to the abuse of the bail bond," asserted Mr. Brown, "and the way in which it releases habitual criminals to prosecute their dishonest livelihood while awaiting trial, he is striking at a phase of our court procedure which should long ago have been corrected."

"The American Surety Company has viewed the indiscriminate bail bond with disapproval and intends to continue to follow the policy of other years and to cooperate with Judge Talley in every way possible in his fight for more stringent practices in this regard."

DECLARES HUSBAND A "BRUTE"

Joseph Soloway of 23 Seventeenth street, Brooklyn, a postal clerk attached to the City Hall Post Office in Manhattan, was charged with disorderly conduct in Fifth avenue court, Brooklyn, by his wife Rose, who said he threw dishes at her and bit her on the arms and legs. Magistrate Brown instructed Soloway not to repeat the attacks, saying he was a "brute." Soloway was put on probation for six months.
